WE ARE PROUD TO ANNOUNCE that we are now using Beck's Bakery breads in our Deli sandwiches! # NEW IN TOWN

We said farewell to a few restaurants this year (pour out some Chianti for Roy's Club Italian Restaurant) but we said hello to a whole new line-up, too. Whether you're first in line at the soft opening or holding out "until they work out the kinks," trying a new place is always fun, bringing out our most optimistic/persnickety selves. And there's plenty new to try out there. Pace yourselves and save room for dessert, Humboldt.

Northern Humboldt

The bicycle-friendly Papa Wheelies (1584 Reasor Road) rolled into McKinleyville with a largely local and organic menu in a little pub. Word is Humboldt grassfed beef burgers are the way to go when you visit, along with the rotating homemade soups.

Arcata

Arcata is home to a handful of new eateries, a couple of which are on wheels. Redwood Curtain Brewery patrons are now lining up for breaded fish and chips, fish tacos and ceviche from the shiny, red Loco Fish Co. truck parked there (550 G St.). By the time you walk from there to 10th and G streets where the new Los Giles Taqueria truck is parked (1033 G St.), you might have room for some carnitas or even a hefty burrito. (Get a peek inside the operation on page 25.) And for the commuter set, Jitterbean has expanded its empire with an Arcata drive-through spot (4950 Valley West Blvd.).

The much loved Taco Factory truck has found itself a kitchen at The Griffin (937 10th St.), which has taken up residency in the former Robert Goodman space, serving cocktails and wine as well as Taco Factory's Korean barbecue-style tacos and other Asian/Latin fusion fare. Over in Northtown, Savory Grill & Café (1504 G St.) is serving an eclectic menu from chicken and waffles at brunch to duck breast and bubbling molcajete at dinner.

Eureka

Fans of San Diego-style Mexican food have found a solid source for asada burritos in Raliberto's Taco Shop (1039 Fourth St.). The offshoot of the cult Crescent City joint is housed in that little faux log cabin — it's been painted bright yellow, so you can't miss it. Another location with plenty of turnover that looks like it might just stick this time is the spot where 101 Barbecue Steakhouse (1134 Fifth St.) has fired up its grills for its meaty menu, along with wings and cedar plank salmon. Close enough to smell the smoke is a new location for Sammy's BBQ (1709 Fifth St.) with its Hawaiian kalua pork, teriyaki chicken and even whole roasted pig if you need serious catering. The original King Salmon location is still closed for now but, according to the staff, not forever.

The Henderson Center neighborhood saw Zoë come and go, and a new branch of Old Town Coffee and Chocolates (502 Henderson St.) open to keep the coffee flowing in the former Corner

Café/Vellutini space. Meanwhile, the long awaited Diver Bar and Grill (2830 F St.) is turning out wood-fired pizzas, sandwiches and burgers just down the block.

The waterfront watering hole Bar-Fly Pub and Grub transformed (back) into the Vista Del Mar (91 Commercial St.), as the spot was formerly known, with fish and chips, paninis and soon a bevy of mac and cheese options. (Fear not — while the deep fried menu is scaled back, the Oreos remain.)

Likewise, the Humboldt Cider Co. Tap Room (517 F St.) set up to sell the fruits of its labors before we had a chance to pour one out for its cousin the Local Beer Bar, which it replaced. We're still reeling from the loss of the burned down El Pueblo Market, with its walls of Mexican breads and pastries, but the Tacos El Pueblo truck (2616 Broadway) is feeding our feelings plenty of soft tacos, burritos and spiced mango fruit cups.

The brunch crowd will be happy to hear the Cutten Chalet (3980 Walnut Drive) has opened with the same breakfast and lunch menu as the original Chalet House of Omelettes. Keep a weather eye out for later hours and a dinner menu on the horizon.

The owners of Humboldt Bay Provisions (the re-launched Humboldt Bay Tourism Center) are set to open the doors on the Humboldt Bay Social Club (900 New Navy Base Road, Samoa). It's a boutique hotel but with a bar and picnic area that will be open to the public for DIY oyster grilling in mid-June.

Eel River Valley

Down in Ferndale, Farmhouse on Main (460 Main St.) has moved in where Curley's Full Circle was. There you'll find country accented stuffed pork loin and pastas, bread pudding and crème brûlée.

Also deep in dairy country, Loleta Cheese Factory, under new ownership as Artisan Cheese Factory, opened its grilled cheese bar Queso Kings (252 Loleta Drive, Loleta) this past year. Belly up for grilled cheese sandwiches with everything from pulled pork to jam right where the cheese is made.

If we've missed any new places near you, we hope you'll send us a heads up. While you're at it, let us know what's good out there by emailing Jennifer@northcoastjournal.com or tweeting @JFumikoCahill with your recommendations and we'll check it out for the Hum Plate blog. Feel free to throw in a food selfie — unlike your Instagram followers, we never get tired of those. ♡

Where There's Smoke

Humboldt's eclectic barbecue scene

BY
JUAREZ

Next time you're feeling particularly carnivorous and hankering for some smoky, charred beef, swine or even chicken, check out these local favorites — new and old — where you can get your meat on.

The barbecue scene in Humboldt is a mixed-bag of cooking methods and meats. In our county you'll find regionally influenced classics like Kansas City-style burnt ends, Texas-style brisket, West Coast Santa Maria tri-tip, Carolina pulled pork, Southern ribs and even Polynesian kalua pulled pork. If you're salivating by now, read on to find out where you can get your fix.

Humboldt Smokehouse

Since opening its doors in 2014, Humboldt Smokehouse (310 Fifth St., Eureka) has quickly become a local favorite, winning best barbecue awards. The kitchen serves up tender meat with spot-on smoky notes and seasoning. So good, in fact, that sauce can be skipped altogether (gasp!). Owner Dave Isaacs credits HSH's success to sourcing select meats and cuing low-and-slow with mesquite, hickory or apple wood in their offset smokers. The burnt ends — fatty beef tips cooked to perfection with a charred exterior and tender inside — are a must. Those nuggets are an unusual offering in these parts but a menu staple in Kansas City barbecue joints, where they allegedly originated. The brisket at Humboldt Smokehouse is also dandy, fork tender with a nice crust. The pulled pork and chicken are also smoky, reliable options. Enjoy meats by the pound ($16.99 - $19.99), stuffed in a sandwich ($9.99) or burrito ($9.99 - $11.99), atop of mac-n-cheese ($6.99 - $12.99) or in a meat box (one, two or three meats plus two sides $9.99 - $19.99). The from-scratch baked beans and red potato salad are particularly noteworthy sides. There are also five house-made sauce options from traditional to a tangy mustard sauce.

Southside Mike's BBQ

Southside Mike's BBQ food truck hit the streets in February of 2017. Owner Mike Ross, who hails from Chicago, is no stranger to Humboldt's barbecue scene. He's been competing and taking honors at local competitions for almost a decade, firing up Southern style, pit barbecue. He's upgraded from the pit and tent to a fancy 22-foot-long food truck where he sells, arguably, some of the best tri-tip in Humboldt. Other delectable regular menu items include the tender pork ribs, the smoky mac-n-cheese made with four cheeses and the apple coleslaw. The slaw is on the mark. It's bright and crisp with cabbage, finely diced apples, shredded carrots and a hint of coriander. Ross' cooking and flavors is a testament to his Southern/soul food roots with a few twists to balance salty, sweet and spicy. Customers can order meats with or without sauce in a hefty sandwich ($11) or as a plate ($11 to $14). The mac-n-cheese topped with tri-tip ($9) is a customer favorite. The truck is on the streets (mostly Eureka) four days a week. Find his schedule and location on Southside Mike's BBQ's Facebook page.

(Speaking of mobile barbecue — in case you're wondering why local favorite Wild Oaks Grill, a.k.a. The Tri-Tip Guy, is not on this list, he informed us he is relocating his barbecue venture north to Oregon in May.)

Sammy's BBQ & Catering

For a Polynesian twist on barbecue, check out Sammy's BBQ & Catering (1709 Fifth St., Eureka). Sammy moved its operations from King Salmon to Eureka in November of 2016. There you'll find treasures like slow-roasted kalua pulled pork and marinated teriyaki chicken. Tender tri-tip and St. Louis-style ribs are also popular items. Owner Sammy Vainuku says its rotisserie method of cooking over an open pit of mesquite and black oak is the secret to tender and smoky meats. It's also earned them local awards. Side dishes shine: The potato salad has just the right amount of mayo, the macaroni salad is old-school and the pineapple coleslaw is crisp, tangy and faintly sweet. Locals love the chop suey — the glossy, soy-sauce rice noodles with diced veggies. Barbecue is served on sandwiches ($10, includes one meat topped with one side) and plate specials (one or two meats plus two sides $11, $13). If you have a sweet tooth, and if it's not sold out, try the pineapple upside down cake.

101 Barbecue Steakhouse

101 Barbecue Steakhouse (1134 Fifth St., Eureka) opened its doors in August of 2016. Owner Leticia Artega formerly ran Gonzalez Mexican Restaurant out of the same location but switched gears last summer and brought on Crescent City barbecue caterer Keith Ownsbey to head up the new operation. The kitchen is now smoking up barbecue low and slow. Customer favorites are the fall-off-the-bone, St. Louis-style ribs (a half rack is $15.99 for dinner but on Thursdays catch the $10 Half Rack Special) and the hefty pulled meat sandwiches served on toasted ciabatta buns. Try the pulled tri-tip sandwich with melted Swiss and grilled onions ($14.99) for something new or stick with the traditional pulled pork with coleslaw ($12.95). Here, the staff serves up from-scratch standard sides but the potato salad with sweet relish is more special. Check out the daily $5 Meal Deals (on Mondays, snag two pulled pork sliders plus one cold side and fries; on Fridays it's pulled tri-tip sliders).

Shamus T Bones

If you fancy a hunter's lodge ambiance and a lovely view of Humboldt Bay, Shamus T Bones (1911 Truesdale St., Eureka) may be your spot. The big, wide-open restaurant is resplendent with décor from fireplaces to antler chandeliers to mounted animal heads peering from the walls. Shamus has an extensive menu but the ribs are really what it's known for. The St. Louis ribs are tender, nicely smoked, charred and finished with a sweet glaze. The three-rib appetizer at $6.99 is a deal, and a half slab runs $17.99. Customers also like the tender Texas brisket (sandwich $16.99/plate $19.99) and Carolina pulled pork sandwich ($15.99/plate $17.99). A bonus here is the full bar with local beers on tap. This place is a little spendy but during happy hour Monday through Friday, score the rib appetizer and a beer for $10.

Porter Street Barbeque

Porter Street Barbeque (605 Broadway, Eureka) has been feeding Humboldtians for more than two decades. Its custom-built, mammoth grill out back is fired up seven days a week. Scott and Sherry Seelye run the family-owned and operated restaurant that's near and dear to locals. Customers line up for the tri-tip or chicken sandwiches ($7.99 to $11.79). Also on the menu are pork ribs (half slab $12.99) and beef ribs (single $4.59/slab $24.99). The meats are seasoned with a secret dry rub of "love" and grilled over oak. Porter Street's side "Homemade Fix-ins" ($3.89), include coleslaw, macaroni salad and potato salad. The side of chili is a good bet with plenty of beans, bits of smoky meat and a little kick. ♣

A day in a taco truck

The smell of thinly sliced and seasoned carne asada as it is thrown onto a flat top grill fills the narrow space between the stainless steel walls. Oil sputters as French fries are lowered into the deep fryer before being piled on a large flour tortilla. The sizzling asada, handfuls of Monterey jack cheese, beans and guacamole are layered on top before the tortilla is tucked and rolled into a California burrito from Los Giles Taqueria.

Los Giles Taqueria is a family owned taco truck situated near the intersection of G and 10th streets in Arcata, across from Coldwell Banker. Burritos, tacos, quesadillas, tortas — one order after another, the orders come in. Osvaldo Hernandez, shirt tucked with his hair slicked back under a hairnet, smiles and does what he loves for the customers waiting to eat his food.

Hernandez moved to the states from Tlaxcala, Mexico, at the age of 18 and has worked in kitchens his entire life. He worked at Rico's Tacos Taqueria for 10 years before deciding to venture out on his own.

"I began as a kitchen helper and I have done just about everything in the kitchen," Hernandez says. "But you know I just got tired of always following someone else's recipe. I decided it was time to follow my own."

If you think starting and operating a food truck is easy, you are incorrect. It means 12-hour days, constantly on your feet, with just few breaks to use the restroom or get a quick bite. Then you only get a couple hours of sleep before you have to wake up and do it all over again. Don't forget the time needed to run other errands and shop for supplies. Add it up and 24 hours just does not seem like enough time.

"It really is a lot of work, a lot," Hernandez says. "You don't just buy a truck, drive out to a spot and start cooking, it takes time."

The day begins at the Foodworks Culinary Center, a community rental kitchen. The kitchen doors swing open. Hernandez, his wife Esmeralda and his brother Omar unload boxes of onions, tomatoes, avocados and 40 pounds of fresh meat out of the back of the family's Ford Excursion. As Osvaldo begins to season and prepare the meat, Esmeralda chops up the ingredients for the salsa. Outside, Omar checks the trucks generator and makes sure it is ready for the night ahead.

"I get here [kitchen] at about 5 PM each day to get ready for the night," Hernandez says. "They charge us by the hour so I try to be out as fast as possible."

On the stove top, beans and rice are bubbling. The team packs Jarritos, Mexican Colas and water bottles into coolers with ice. After about three hours of preparation, the truck is finally ready to be loaded.

The meat, ingredients, salsas, refreshments and eating utensils are placed on a cart and rolled out to the parking lot where the black truck with a giant Aztec calendar stencil and gold "Los Giles Taqueria" lettering awaits.

Before heading out, Hernandez fires up the truck and cooks his family a quick meal right in the parking lot. He slices tortas in half and lavishes them with butter. He cooks up carne asada and tosses it on the bread along with cheese, onions and cilantro, followed by salsa, guacamole and sour cream. A torta for Osvaldo, another for Esmeralda and then some tacos to be shared by his children at home.

It's 9 PM and music begins to play from the truck. Upon arrival, Los Giles is greeted by a line of eager customers waiting to eat their food. A young woman and her boyfriend, whom she's teaching to speak Spanish, are the first to order. Hernandez puts together four asada tacos and a California burrito, places them in brown boxes and hands them through the tiny window. The cold and rainy night seems to have little effect as the crowds get larger and larger.

Lexee Hutchens, originally from San Diego, says this place reminds her of home. "I've only been here once before and it was on a Saturday," Hutchens said. "There was, like, 20 people waiting and no one seemed to mind it."

Osvaldo is on the grill and fryer to the left and Omar is taking orders and assembling the food to the right. Pivoting and dancing past each other, they manage the small kitchen space with no problem. "People believe it gets super crowded inside these trucks but I actually like my cooking space," Osvaldo says. "I've worked in smaller kitchens, so this is perfect for me."

You can see why many brick-and-mortar restaurants view these so-called "roach coaches" and "gut trucks" as big competition. "I have definitely felt the negative feedback from some restaurants around here," Hernandez said. "I am taking their business and they don't like it." The trucks can come and go as they please, following their clientele, as opposed to stationary restaurants whose customers must come to them.

"Food comes in first through your eyes," Hernandez says. "I enjoy letting people see me make their food and I enjoy the close interactions I get to have with my customers."

Carlos Sanchez, a frequent customer, orders two flautas and a quesadilla. He says he enjoys the camaraderie he has established with Osvaldo and Omar. "I miss these guys on Mondays," Sanchez said. "The food is not only delicious, it always comes with a smile."

Just when you start to think the action is winding down and time to pack up and go home, boom! The 2 AM wave of bar patrons hits. The smell of beer and tequila wafts toward the truck. There are groups of stumbling friends holding each other up, designated drivers happy the night is over. The line wraps and zigzags through the five-car parking lot. Following the alcohol-filled bar patrons come the bartenders. "I'll trade you a beer for a taco," one of them offers.

"Our hours say 3 AM but sometimes we keep going until all the meat is out," Hernandez says. "I end up getting home at like 5 or 6 AM some days."

After what seems like an eternity, the day is finally over. With sweat beading, food stains on his shirt and a smile on his face, Osvaldo begins to scrub the grill and pack everything up. The night seems to go from chaotic and alive to quiet and calm as the final customer finishes his last taco. "Not too busy today, huh," Osvaldo says to Omar. It makes you wonder what it's like when they're slammed. The truck is tidied and driven back to the kitchen where it will be fully cleaned in the morning. A few hours of sleep and then it's back to the kitchen for the Hernandez brothers. ♣

Morsels by Month

BY JOSEPHINE JOHNSON

Prepare to mark some dates because here is a list of Humboldt's annual food festivals.

We've got a year full of tasty events ahead of us, both for good causes and just because.

Remember, whether you're sucking down oysters or noshing on fair food, it's not gluttony — it's community spirit.

January

Big Chili Cook-off: In mid-January Big Brothers and Big Sisters of the North Coast hosts its annual cook-off at the Mad River Tasting Room in Blue Lake. Chow down on chili and groove to live tunes for the sake of local kids.

Bowl of Beans Jan. 15 at the Arcata Community Center. An evening of local music and youth performances with a traditional rice and beans dinner to celebrate Martin Luther King Jr. Day and benefit Arcata youth.

Eureka Crab Crawl: Tentatively at the end of January, it's a two-day celebration of crustaceans in Old Town Eureka, with a festival and bars and restaurants featuring crab-themed drinks and dishes.

February

After all that chili, beans and rice, and crab, a digestive rest is in order. Well, maybe just a little local Valentine's chocolate.

March

Humboldt Pie Fundraiser: The annual celebration of all things flakey, gooey and home-baked is at the Wharfinger Building in Eureka with prizes for best pie and pie eating, kids' games and live music. Proceeds benefit Tri County Independent Living.

Taste of Main Street: On the cusp of the Redwood Coast Jazz Festival, dozens of Old Town eateries and bars are on the menu as you stroll around grazing on samples. Afterward, work it off at the Redwood Coast Music Festival's kick-off swing dance.

June

Pony Express Days: In the first week of June, it's another round of chili, a good option for those sometimes cold, overcast days. Pony Express Days in McKinleyville hosts an entire week of family fun, including this chili cook-off at the McKinleyville Recreation Center. Sample every chili and vote for the champion.

Arcata Bay Oyster Festival: With more 12,000 attendees each year, the bivalve bacchanalia on the Arcata Plaza is one of Humboldt's signature summer events. Always on the Saturday before Father's Day — this year, it's June 18. The event is sponsored by Arcata Main Street and proudly showcases the aquaculture of our very own Humboldt Bay with live music, shucking contests, an army of vendors and chefs competing for best oyster.

Trinidad Fish Festival: June 18. An all-day party in the "drinking town with a fishing problem," featuring live music, vendors and a big 'ol fish feed in the sunshine.

Best of Humboldt Fair: Takes place June 23 through 26 at Redwood Acres, featuring local food products, tastings, funnel cakes and the best fried fair food. It's a great place to catch the best of what's being produced in Humboldt.

April

Spamley Cup: Ah, SPAM, that guilty, salty-fatty, porky-ham pleasure. Local chefs and armchair connoisseurs compete and craft this specially processed American meat into gourmet entrees. The great local music, kid activities and food benefit CASA of Humboldt. Spamtastic!

May

Up in Smoke BBQ and Beer Tasting: On May 21 at Eureka's Redwood Acres Fairgrounds, local breweries showcase their wares and barbecue aficionados compete for top honors. And it's all you can eat. With local music. Proceeds go to the Clarke Museum.

July

Fourth of July: Get ready for fireworks and food as Arcata, Eureka, Benbow and Ferndale all boast day-long celebrations with tons of local food vendors, music, games and family-friendly activities. Can't wait? Fortuna parties on July 3.

Fortuna Rodeo: July 10-16 saddle up for the Fortuna Rodeo's signature chili cook-off and annual pit barbecue — 4,000 pounds of beef, 80 gallons of potato salad, 1,800 bread rolls and 100 gallons of baked beans, y'all.

BBQ and Brew: On July 9, kick up your heels and get your fill of tri-tip, marinated tofu fillets, hot dogs and corn on the cob. Local live music and hayrides, too. Proceeds go to Heart of Redwoods Community Hospice.

Blackberry Festival: At the end of July, head to the Westhaven Firehall for blackberry and huckleberry pie, barbecue, beer and wine. Local music, too. Proceeds go to the Westhaven Volunteer Fire Department.

August

Humboldt County Fair Aug. 23 thru Sept. 4. Sure, you can check out prize-winning livestock, enjoy the thrill of the mid-way or try your luck at the horsetrack. But really, you'll want to load up on favorites that only come around once a year — funnel cakes, shaved ice, corn dogs, cotton candy, caramel corn and all things deep fried and delicious.

Taste of Willow Creek: In mid-August, go inland to Willow Creek and enjoy all the best local deliciousness — wine, hors d'oeuvre, barbecue, fruits, veggies, local art and music.

Taste of the Cove: At the end of August, get ready for a meal with a view at Mal Coombs Park in Shelter Cover. Grilled fresh-caught seafood is the order of the day. Proceeds benefit Heart of the Redwoods Community Hospice.

Yurok Salmon Festival: Aug. 20 marks the 54th year of this family-friendly fest. Held at the Klamath Community Center, the celebration includes cultural demonstrations, a 5K run, heavy machinery rodeo and more. The lunch includes Klamath salmon fresh as you'll ever have it.

Hops in Humboldt: On Aug. 26, get ready to get your beer and grub on at Humboldt's biggest beer fest in Rohner Park, Fortuna. Pizza, pretzels, Indian tacos, tri-tip, fries, kabobs, Mexican and more compete for room in your belly with 35 different beers.

November

October

Apple Harvest Festival: The first weekend in October, Fortuna throws an old fashioned street fair with bushels of apples — on sticks, with caramel, in pies, baked and deep-fried. There's even more food, barbecue and family activities in Rohner Park.

Bacon Fest: In mid-October Blue Lake Casino is the place for all things porcine and delicious. Vendors serve up their best morsels in the casino parking lot.

Hoptoberfest: Held mid-October in Perigot Park in sunny Blue Lake, this one celebrates regional breweries, area food vendors and local talent. Proceeds benefit Blue Lake Education Foundation.

Octoberfest: On Oct. 29, it's a traditional German-style dinner at Rohner Park, Fortuna. German and local beer, beer barrel and stein races, polka and "oompah" music to top off the bratwurst. Benefits Fortuna Senior Center.

September

Tastin' Trinidad: On Sept. 14 local restaurants, cafes, wineries and breweries showcase what they do best as the sun sets over the seaside town. Bocce ball, live music and fun for the kids.

North Country Fair: Held Sept. 16 and 17 on the Arcata Plaza, this two-day romp in the sunshine has been a jewel of local culture since 1974. The fair features regional arts, crafts, music and food — pizza, beer, oysters, barbecue, sweet treats and much more.

Lost Coast Beer & Bocce Tournament: Sept. 16 brings a full day of food, beer and bocce with live music at Firemen's Park in Ferndale.

Fieldbrook Art & Wine Festival: The last Saturday in September at the Fieldbrook Winery, enjoy barbecued oysters, albacore, local wine, beer, music and artisan booths. Benefits Fieldbrook Educational Foundation and Fieldbrook School.

Intertribal Gathering and Elders Dinner: The Redwood Acres Fairgrounds welcomes all and celebrates elders. The event gives a glimpse into local Native cultures with traditional dance, art and music. Elders are served a free traditional salmon dinner at noon.

Mushroom Fair: The annual fun since 1978 is always on the Sunday before Thanksgiving at Redwood Acres Fairgrounds. Learn about all things fungi-rrific, get mushroom cookbooks and recipes, and bring in your found fungi for accurate identification.

December

Ferndale Tree Lighting and Linguica and Beans Dinner: On the first Saturday in December, join the residents of the Victorian Village lighting the tallest living Christmas tree in America, then head over to the Portuguese Hall for a traditional meal of linguica and beans. A heartwarming, friendly, delicious evening with — what else? — cookies for dessert. ❖

Homemade, organic,
super premium
ice creams and sorbets.

FEEL GOOD ABOUT YOUR DESSERT.

We use only the highest quality ingredients, local and seasonal when available.

Twelve rotating flavors at a time including two dairy-free options... a sorbet and a coconut or nut milk based flavor.

Our all organic product is made fresh in the shop every night with healthful ingredients such as Straus Family Creamery, produce from local family farms, and chocolate crafted from bean to

Of course we always have the traditional favorites on hand, but you may like to try our more unusual flavors... jalapeño, avocado, apple pie, Earl Grey or the wildly popular salted caramel.

The super fresh waffle cones are made all day, and you don't have to be a kid to get a kid cone.

We hope to see you in our shop.

HUNAN VILLAGE FORTUNA

30 year anniversary

Hunan Village is excited to celebrate its 30 year anniversary! Established in 1987, Hunan began as the dream of a husband and wife duo who moved from Taipei, Taiwan to Fortuna, California to raise their family. Over the years, the restaurant evolved into a well-loved establishment within the town, and to this day happily serves all who walk through the door.

Today, Hunan Village is owned and managed by its resident chef of over 15 years, who continues to serve the original recipes loved by Hunan's loyal customers. Since the original owners sold their businesses in 2014, Hunan has been operating as a sole family business and is not associated with any other restaurants.

A sincere thank you to all our loyal customers. We are grateful to have your support, and look forward to many more years of serving our community.
